In another column appears the advertisement of Jacob Muller. His consorial parlors last through all administrations.

The talk of having an excursion start from Carson to see the Truckee ice palace seems to have given way to the Leap Year ball.

John G. Fox has a very large display of Christmas goods and wishes the announcement made that he will refuse no reasonable offer.

The Ozark has been fitted up in very elaborate style and the bar partitioned off from the rest and, separate card rooms made. All drinks are ten cents.

F. W. Cole who practiced law for many years in Nevada, and who was Judge of the Sixth District Court in Eureka county, died at Butte, Mont., on December 20th, from paralysis.

The Pope Manufacturing Co., of Hartford, Conn., where the celebrated Columbia bicycle is produced, has sent the APPEAL its annual calendar gotten up in its most unique style.

It is hardly the correct thing on the part of our esteemed Truckee contemporaries to say that people who call there during the Ice Carnival will be warmly received by the Frost King.

The ladies managing the Leap Year Ball to be given in Armory Hall Friday evening are determined to show the men how such things should be conducted, and they will succeed.

All the skeptics who go over to the Le Grand Oro gold deposits came back extravagant in their praise of the new diggings. There will be some new bonanza kings in Carson before long.

The effects of Sam Muldoon, the Chinese vegetable dealer, were sold by the Sheriff yesterday at Bath's ranch to satisfy a bill for land rental. They were purchased by Henry Bath for $450.

For Over Fifty Years.

Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup, has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and the best remedy for Diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

WINTER IN NEVADA.

An Erroneous Idea About its Severity Corrected.

An erroneous but common impression among Eastern people, is that Nevada is covered with snow six months in the year, and has a climate the year round that would freeze the whiskers off an Iclander, says the Deeth Tidings. This is inaccurate and misleading, for all possible climates, from a semitropical warmth to regions of perpetual snow are to be found in the State. In the dead of winter one may travel from any of the Eastern States and upon crossing the Eastern boundary of Nevada he will discover that he passed through deer snow in other States than ever beautified the mountains, valleys and plains of Nevada, and in a few hours by rail on the Central Pacific, find himself gazing at thousands of grazing cattle in central Nevada; and as the train speeds onward to the Western extremity of the State, he will again encounter the "beautiful," and, perhaps, be precipitated into a mountain of snow. It is here the severity of a Nevada winter is usually experienced by the traveler, and where the impression originated that our winters are of long duration and extremely disagreeable.

The winter in Washoe, Douglas, Ormsby and Churchill Counties are usually mild, and the counties in the Southern section of the State rarely experience a frost. In the above mentioned counties it is not an unusual sight to see the farmers plowing their fields in December, and harvesting them early in March. In Elko county, the largest and most productive county, the winter lasts from four to five months, but snow clings to some of the elevated and rugged mountains until late in the summer, thus supplying an abundance of water to irrigate the crops. The climate is considered the best in the world for man and beast. At intervals the mercury in thermometers drop out of sight, but so accustomed have inhabitants become that the winter weather is as acceptable and agreeable to them as any. The people are healthy and vigorous, pulmonary and other inveterate diseases are almost unknown. Hundreds of persons afflicted with consumption, fever and ague, rheumatism, and other chronic diseases have come from all parts of the United States to this salubrious and invigorating climate, and to our natural hot springs to regain their health and strength.

The principle amusements in the winter are sleighing parties, skating, hunting, trapping, dramatic and literary entertainments and dancing. It is never too cold to indulge in or attend the above amusements, and it is no unusual occurrence for people to travel in open vehicles from twenty to fifty miles to attend an entertainment or dance given by neighboring valleys.

We frankly admit that the climate of Nevada is not as mild and as pleasant during the winter months as that of California or any of the Southern States, but it is safe to say that our climate is as beautiful as that of any State in the Union, and our winters are of shorter duration and less severity than in any of the Eastern States.

The Interview Correct.

ED. APPEAL:—As several parties have enquired of me if I really believed that Pine Nut was as good as reported in the APPEAL in your interview with me yesterday, I will state that the interview is correct as reported and a conservative estimate of what I regard as the present appearance and future possibilities of Pine Nut.

Yours,
Geo. J. Parker.

The Armenians are pretty well forgotten in the new complications that have set all Europe by the ears. With England and Germany at sword's points over the Transvaal, it will be a miracle of diplomacy if there is any concert action against the Sultan. The "sick man" is probably indulging in a quiet laugh over the quarrels of his Christian neighbors, which are a godsend to him.

Banker Morgan of New York notifies the U. S. Government that it must sell all the bonds through him or none. The picture of Uncle Sam sitting out on the steps of Morgan's Bank to await the great financier's ultimatum on the bond question would not have been witnessed in the days of Andrew Jackson.

Nevada gets it in the neck again from California—a state that our riches built up. Architect Brown has decided that tufa is not at all desirable, and the harbor commissioners will call for Oregon or Colusa stone to be used in the construction of the depot building at San Francisco.

A new style of pin pool has been introduced at the Ozark.

Is This a Fake?

The following has all the earmarks of a big fake, but it is interesting reading:

The noise of war alarms should not distract attention from the marvelous triumph of science, which is reported from Vienna. It is announced that Prof. Rontgen, of the Wurzburg University, has discovered a light, which for the purpose of photography will penetrate flesh and most other organic substances. The professor has succeeded in photographing metal weights which were in a closed wooden case, also a man's hand which shows only the bones, the flesh being invisible.

The Chronicle correspondent says the discovery is simple. The professor takes a so-called crooked pipe, viz: A vacuum glass pipe, with an induction current going through it, and by means of rays which the pipe emits, photographs on ordinary photographic plates. In contrast with the ordinary rays of light these rays penetrate organic matter and other opaque substances, just as ordinary rays penetrate glass.

He has also succeeded in photographing hidden metals with a cloth thrown over the camera. The rays penetrated not only the wooden case containing the metals, but the fabric in front of the negative. The professor is already using his discovery to photograph broken limbs and bullets in human bodies.

The Truckee Outrage.

A lady writes the APPEAL from Truckee that about a month ago a man named Pat McNulty had coal oil poured over him in Truckee by two men and was then set adrift. He has since died in the hospital of his injuries.

She further writes that owing to the fact that the parties implicated were in high society circles, the local paper refused to mention it.

If her statements are true a murder has been committed under the most outrageous circumstances, and the perpetrators of this outrage should be legally tried for the act.

The correspondent sends the names of the two men, but they are withheld for further particulars.

Visiting the Old Folks.

The Governor's private Secretary, Mr. Hanford, went below last evening with the Governor's children. It was thought that the presence of his children at his bedside for a few days would have a cheering effect upon him. They will remain a week with the Governor and his wife.

Hit With a Beer Glass.

Today the case of L. W. Stark of the Ormsby House comes up in the Justice Court. The complaining witness, Parker, asserts that Stark hit him with a beer glass. Stark pleads justification by reason of Parker's abusive language.

Judge Goodwin publishes in the Salt Lake Tribune an Admission Hymn to celebrate the advent of Utah into the Union. In the same number he prints a poem by Austin the new Laureate in England. Goodwin's poem is much the better of the two and is a gem in its line.

Since the 31st State Land Register has prepared contracts, in duplicate, for seventy-four applicants for State land. When these contracts shall have been signed interest will begin to accrue on several thousand dollars, thereby adding to the State School Fund.

Manager Piper is negotiating to bring Lord Sholto Douglass to the Comstock. If freaks have any attraction for the Comstock public, Sholto ought to draw a crowded house.

CHEAP CUSTOM WORK A DECEPTION.

A style of tailoring is rapidly gaining headway which is but an imposition upon the consumer and a detriment to the workman. The cheap custom work or what is called "special order work" is a shrewd dodge for the purpose of deceiving the customer into the belief that he is obtaining custom work at ready made prices. The real worth of custom work lies in the exactness of the fit, and the thoroughness in which it is made. Cheap custom work is therefore inferior to ready made work.

Large concerns, some also engaged in ready made work have grown up of late and depend for patronage upon retail stores, and have numerous agents scattered everywhere soliciting orders and gain trade because of the strikingly cheap prices offered for goods made to order. As a rule these agents seldom obtain an order twice from the same person.

It is about time that this scheme was exposed to the people and ABE COHN of the EMPORIUM shows up the fraud. If you want clothes that fit and are tried on as often as is necessary call at the EMPORIUM Court House Building, Carson City, Nevada.
